Take Action in April

As we mark Autism Month in Quebec and National Volunteer Week (April 19–25, 2026), we're reminded that meaningful change is driven by people, those who choose to show up, contribute, and build something greater than themselves.

This month, we invite you to take action:

- Educate your self and others on the great work the FQA is doing.
- Start one conversation about neurodiversity in your workplace, your circle, or your community.
- Share our mission to help expand awareness and connect us with those who can support or benefit from our work.
- Get involved by offering your time or professional expertise.

We are actively looking for professionals in our community, including those in graphic design, legal, project management, healthcare, and related fields, who want to contribute through pro bono support, mentorship, or strategic guidance.

Your expertise can play a direct role in shaping inclusive, sustainable solutions.

Community & Events

Community, Creativity and Action at the Peter W. Hart Gallery

On March 28, Maison WILOH took part in a meaningful community event at the Peter W. Hart Gallery in Pointe-Claire, bringing together art, inclusion, and local collaboration.

What began as a simple idea quickly turned into something truly special, bringing our Maison WILOH community together for a day of connection, creativity and joy. Our budding artists embraced the opportunity to express themselves, transforming blank canvases into works of art as their creativity flowed freely.

The vibrant Peter Hart Gallery, filled with the expressive artwork of Peter Hart, radiates talent and creativity, bringing smiles and a sense of life to everyone the moment they walk through its doors. It's no surprise that the Peter Hart Gallery was recently recognized with "The Best Art Gallery in Montreal by The Suburban's "Best of Montreal."

This workshop marks phase one of an exciting journey as we prepare for an upcoming art exhibit at Victor Rose Café in August. This is the beginning of a meaningful collaboration with the Peter Hart Gallery and Victor Rose Café. It is a true privilege to be part of the efforts of these two incredible community gems and the special people that bring us together.

The impact of this art project extends far beyond the canvas. It creates space for inclusion, celebrates diverse talents and reminds us all of the power of coming together to support and uplift one another.

Our heartfelt thanks to Peter, Francine and the Peter Hart Gallery family, Terry of Victor Rose Café, Miranda of The Suburban and of course the very talented Maison WILOH artists.

With thanks to Miranda Lightstone of The Suburban for the original reporting.

Maison WILOHS's Annual Sugaring Off

Sweet Moments of Community and Inclusion

Maison WILOH's Third Annual Sugaring Off, held on Saturday, March 21, brought together 56 family members and friends for a memorable day at Auberge des Gallant.

Taking place on World Down Syndrome Day and marking the close of Intellectual Disability Week, the event was a meaningful reminder of the importance of connection, inclusion, and shared experiences. The afternoon was filled with maple treats, laughter, and the simple joy of being together. A horse-drawn sleigh ride through the woods added a special touch, creating lasting memories for everyone involved.

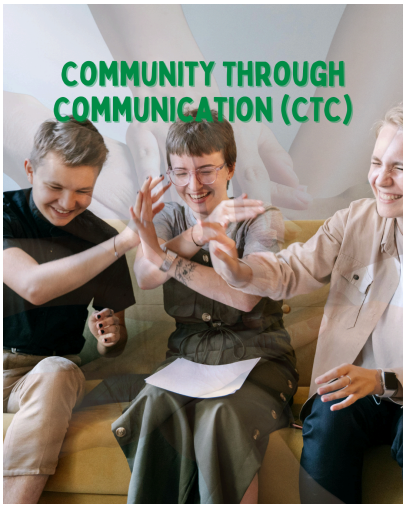

This cherished tradition continues to highlight how local support and kindness can make a real difference in the lives of our community. Moments like these bring smiles, strengthen bonds, and create a true sense of belonging.

Maison WILOH extends its sincere thanks to the entire team at Auberge des Gallant for their continued support and for helping make this annual gathering so special.

Community Through Communication (CTC) recap

Building Community with CTC

CTC (Community Through Communication) brings together members of the Maison WILOH community for meaningful, open conversations in a welcoming and respectful environment.CTC

Hosted in a comfortable home environment, these gatherings encourage connection, shared experiences, and thoughtful dialogue.

Highlights from Our Last Gathering

At our most recent session, members shared experiences that resonated across the group.

One member spoke about her son's journey, including his ability to understand and communicate new information through the Spelling to Communicate program, reminding us not to underestimate our adult children's potential.

Another reflected on the importance of taking time for ourselves, learning to step back, and trusting others in supporting our children's care.

As always, the gathering was complemented by a generous selection of shared treats, adding to the warmth of the moment.

Upcoming Gatherings

April 17 — 6:00 p.m.
May 18 — Time to be confirmed

— Irena, Veronica, Sofia

This is How Your Donations

are Making a Difference

Behind every step forward at Maison WILOH is a community of support. Your contributions are helping move our mission from planning into action.

To date, donations have directly supported the foundation of our work. This includes the development of our website and digital presence, communications efforts to raise awareness, and the implementation of essential software tools to help structure our operations.

We have carefully safeguarded our funds to prepare for the next phase, which will include validating a selected location and engaging professionals and key experts who play a critical role in advancing our inclusive housing initiative.

We will soon require additional funding for construction cost estimation and conceptual design. Each investment helps confirm the infrastructure needed to deliver an inclusive and sustainable living environment for neurodivergent adults.

Your support at this moment is pivotal.

Be part of what we're building.
