A New Collaboration That Moves Our Mission Forward

We are pleased to announce that Maison WILOH has partnered with the technical resource group (TRG) Bâtir son quartier.

Bâtir son quartier is a social economy enterprise renowned for its expertise in coordinating and delivering community and social real estate projects. Their mission is to create inclusive and supportive living environments that meet the housing and local service needs of vulnerable or low-income populations in the Greater Montreal area.

This collaboration marks a significant step forward for our project. With the guidance of Bâtir son quartier, we are one step closer to making our vision a reality: a warm, inclusive, and sustainable living environment for neurodivergent adults in the West Island.

SURVEY

Yes No

Amongst your friends or family circle, do you know a person with an intellectual disability or autism?

Did you know...?

95% of respondents know someone with an intellectual disability or autism spectrum disorder.

That's what our Maison WILOH survey revealed. This striking figure highlights just how present neurodivergence is in our personal, social, and professional circles.

At Maison WILOH, this finding motivates us more than ever to create a living environment that is inclusive, humane, and adapted to the needs of neurodivergent adults.

Thank you to everyone who took the time to answer our survey. Your voice matters!
